DISCLAIMER

PURSUANT TO SECTION 41-1-110 OF THE CODE OF LAWS OF SC, AS AMENDED, THE LANGUAGE USED IN THIS DOCUMENT DOES NOT CREATE AN EMPLOYMENT CONTRACT BETWEEN THE EMPLOYEE AND THE AGENCY.

Employees may utilize copyrighted works provided the action is authorized by (a) specific exemptions in the copyright law, (b) the principles of fair use, (c) the fair use guidelines, or (d) licenses or written permission from the copyright owner.

1. Employees who duplicate or use copyrighted materials must obtain written permission of clearance from the copyright holder. No employee of Aiken Technical College may reproduce any copyrighted work in print, video, or electronic form. Copyright is a form of protection provided by the laws of the United States to the original works of authorship, including literary, dramatic, musical, artistic, and certain other intellectual works. This protection is available to both published and unpublished works and prohibits the unauthorized distribution of peer-to-peer sharing of works that are copyrighted. Works are protected by copyright laws in the United States, even if they are not registered with the United States Copyright Office, and even if they do not carry the copyright symbol.

Employees can obtain permission to use copyrighted material online at <http://www.copyright.gov> or obtain permission from the owner of the work directly.

The copyright information provided in this document is intended to assist employees but cannot be used as legal advice.

2. Legal Information

- A. Title 17 of the United States Code is the statutory copyright law of the United States.
- B. Section 106 of the statute describes the five basic rights of copyright owners. They are to reproduce, publish, prepare derivative works, to perform, and to display copyrighted works.
- C. Major limitations to the rights of the copyright holders are set forth in Section 107 of the statute (Fair Use exemption) and Section 110 (Face to Face teaching and T.E.A.C.H. Act exemptions).

3. Copyright information and permission

- A. The Library has information on copyright guidelines. Library staff cannot provide legal advice.
- B. Each department chair/director is responsible for posting appropriate copyright notices on equipment for public use.

4. Penalties

Employees who violate copyright law may be subject to disciplinary action up to and including termination.

Penalties for copyright infringement also include civil and criminal penalties. For details, see Title 17, United States Code, Sections 504 and 505.
